1 Physical Assessment

TICK ALL THAT APPLY

- ☒ Does the intervention compromise the structural integrity or binding of the volume? original pgs damage the page
- ☒ Is the intervention reversible? e.g., clipped or tipped-in vs. permanently glued
- ☐ Does it obscure original text in a way that renders the source unusable?

2 Content & Ethics

TICK ALL THAT APPLY

- ☒ Does the intervention meet the "Pedagogical Intent"? e.g., provides a counter-narrative or critique
- ☐ Is the content free of libel or hate speech? — Probably?
- ☐ Has the student signed a Creative Commons / Usage agreement?

3 Other Considerations

WEIGH BEFORE YOU DECIDE

- Lack of page numbers means it removed, can't be easily reassembled
- Context + card suggests ephemerality
- Would like to be able to lift/replace
- Special collection?

CONSIDER -

- Precedent set for future submissions?
- Provenance, anonymity, or consent of original author?
- Cross-departmental implications (Catalogers, Public Services)?
- Long-term storage or conservation cost?
- Community or student voice that should be heard first?

4 Decision Matrix

SELECT ONE

☐ STATUS A Permanent Addition Catalog and shelve. Item enters the permanent record.	☒ STATUS B Temporary / Ephemeral Retain for a defined term, then deaccession or archive surrogate.	☐ STATUS C Rejected Returned to the creator with written rationale.

JUSTIFICATION

Beautiful example of talking back to a text, likely to degrade over time

- Precedent set for future submissions?
- Provenance, anonymity, or consent of original author?
- Cross-departmental implications (Catalogers, Public Services)?
- Long-term storage or conservation cost?
- Community or student voice that should be heard first?

*Look at book vs. art - add placard to the front of book (student name/ what was done to the book)artistic intent of the student - add small amount of context
• treat as its own collection*

4 Decision Matrix

no page numbers on altered pages - if they fell out, how do you know where it goes?

SELECT ONE

☐ STATUS A

Permanent Addition

Catalog and shelf. Item enters the permanent record.

☒ STATUS B

Temporary / Ephemeral

Retain for a defined term, then deaccession or archive surrogate.

☐ STATUS C

Rejected

Returned to the creator with written rationale.

JUSTIFICATION

*we see this as a separate exhibit type thing to showcase student changes/works with the book - would rotate these out after a period of time*DISCLAIMER? stamp / band / insertwould have an insert at front of book explaining what it is / why it's unique

3 Other Considerations

We don't need a full policy. We are users of the collection too, and realistically any user can add or remove elements. We don't need to adopt a punitive, top-down process for this. Realistically it's not enforceable anyway
